

Jury Awarded $1.47 Million to Personal Injury Clients of Morris & Morris Attorneys

A Monroe County jury awarded $1.47 million to husband and wife clients of Morris & Morris Attorneys where the husband suffered significant shoulder, knee and ankle injuries after an oncoming vehicle crossed the centerline resulting in a serious head-on collision.

Deborah M. Field was the Personal Injury Attorney who represented the plaintiffs. Field worked closely with the clients and several experts in collecting evidence introduced during the trial. Medical illustrations, models and photographs were shared with jurors to demonstrate the severity of the injuries and the plaintiff's inability to work in the job he held at the time of the accident.

The present value of the verdict was over $1.6 million and ultimately, with interest, the gross judgment was more than $1.7 million upon payment. The jury's award included compensation for past and future pain and suffering, lost earnings, medical expenses and spousal loss of services.

As with all our personal injury cases, Morris & Morris Attorneys provides the personal attention and exceptional client service that has set our firm apart from the others for three generations. Our commitment and relentless determination to help injury and accident victims has resulted in extensive personal injury settlements and verdicts for our valued clients.

Morris & Morris
Attorneys